

La Línea Tempranillo Rosé

Vintage 2009
RRP $20

TS: Refreshingly stylish, both in packaging and in contents, this is a relaxed wine that will leave you feeling the same way. There is a delicate elegance to its rose petal and guava aromas, which carry the fresh, dry palate through into a long finish with finely ground minerality and mixed spice complexity.

The Yard Kalgan River Vineyard Riesling

Vintage 2009
RRP $25

TS: Utterly restrained and pure, this is a Granny Smith apple and lime zest Riesling with structured river pebble minerality and a fresh lime juice finish. It's pure and clean and reserved and will benefit from time to build mid-palate presence.

Vasse Felix Margaret River Sauvignon Blanc Semillon

Vintage 2009
RRP $25

TS: This is a beautifully crafted style, with a seamless meld between the gooseberry and passionfruit of Sauvignon and the lemony, grassy flavours of Semillon. It's pristine and textured, with the flesh of white peaches and the zest of grapefruit rind.

Brown Brothers Limited Release Pinot Grigio

Vintage 2008
RRP $29

NS: It makes sense that these guys can make a handy top shelf Pinot Grigio when they're so adept at the value end. This has plenty of fragrant ripe stone fruits and a chirpy palate that sparkles with vivacious flavour that pushes impressively deep through the finish. One of the best Grigios around!

Craggy Range Te Muna Road Sauvignon Blanc

Vintage 2009
RRP $32

NS: This tames the intense tropicals of NZ Sauvignon Blanc. Te Muna Road is in Martinborough and this wine is a more restrained, fine-boned take on the popular style. Gentle passionfruit and citrus nose; the palate's composure is impressive, taking an elegant line through to the finish. Almost, dare I say, Riesling-like!

Flametree Frankland River Shiraz

Vintage 2008
RRP $25

TS: A dark, vibrant and spicy Frankland Shiraz, layered with white pepper, plum skin, liquorice and dark berry fruits. It's toned and defined, with velvety tannins and a long, gentle finish.
